BARISTA TRAINING

HOSPITALITY

Change Please are working in partnership with BMet to support those who have been affected by, or experienced homelessness. This programme is designed to provide individuals from the community with an opportunity to work within the hospitality industry.

Change Please is an award-winning social enterprise tackling homelessness through the power of social enterprise and great-tasting coffee. They train people experiencing homelessness to become baristas and support them with everything they need to turn their lives around – a living wage job, support with housing, therapy, a bank account and onward employment opportunities.
